

REVIT 2013 - does not even start up?

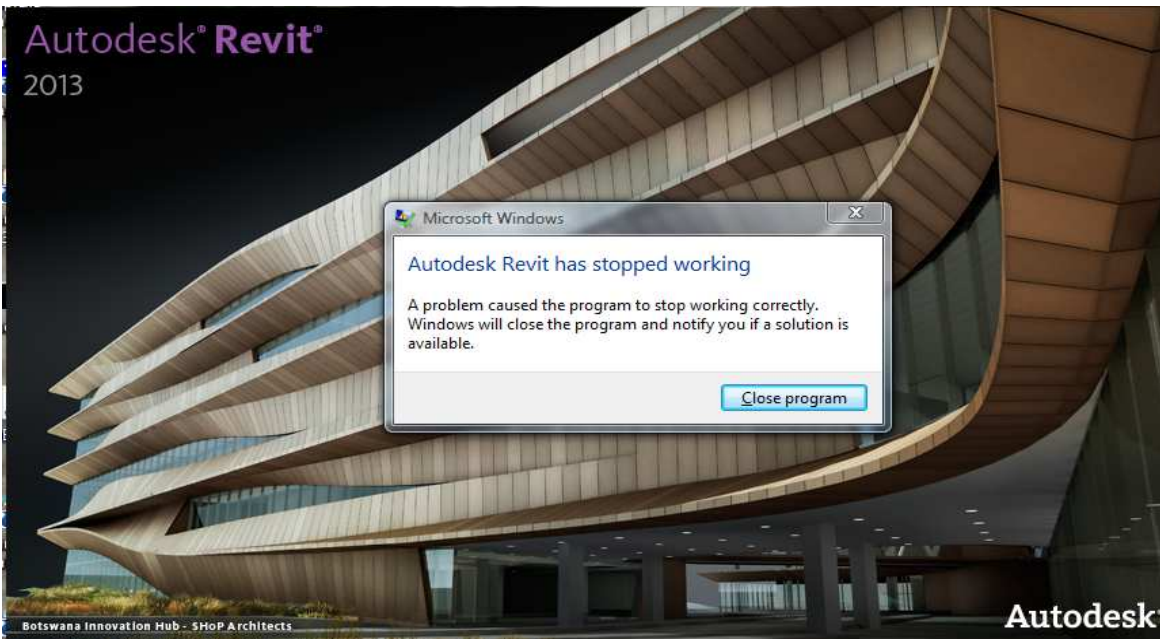

Hello

I have downloaded a trial copy of Revit 2013 to enable me to perform an on-line test for an employment agent in order for me to gain employment nearer to my home.

The download took me the best part of two days to perform. When I finally got the software installed and double clicked on the icon on my desktop, the programme ran for about 3 seconds before receiving the following message:-

This window remained open for 30 seconds and then went to the following window:-

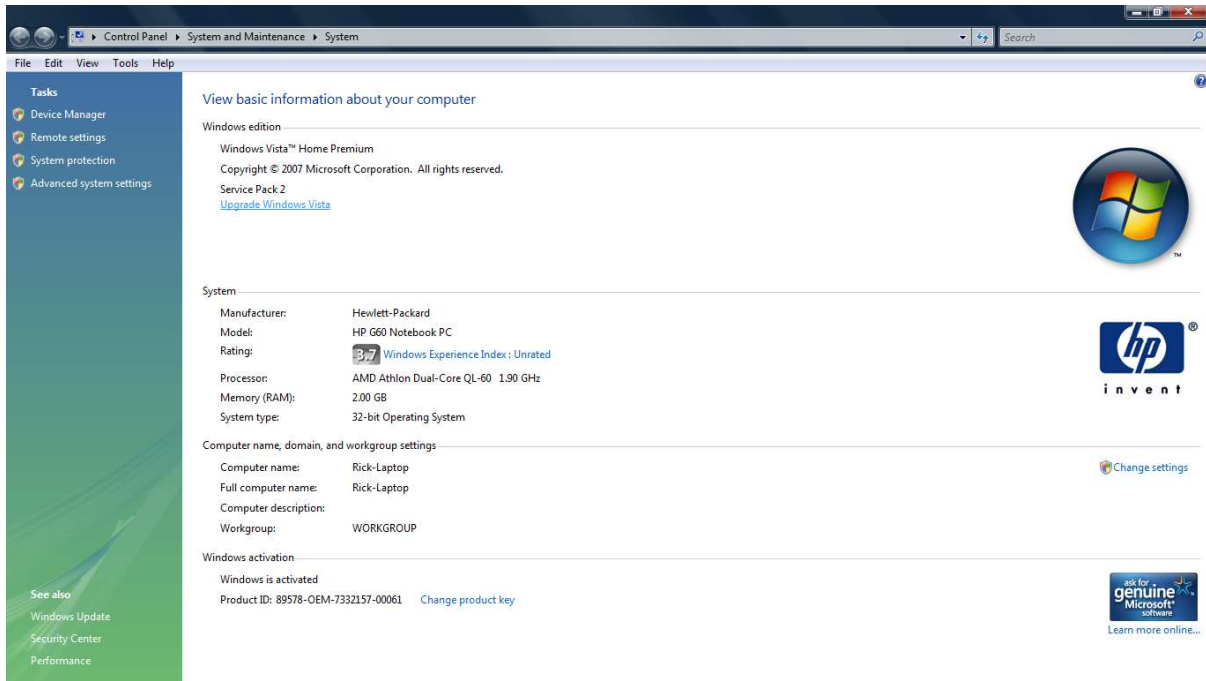

This window remained open, needless to say, Windows did not close the programme or notify me of any solutions!

The only way to for the window to close is by clicking on the "Close program" button, which of course it did. However no other explanation of why the software did not function was, or is, forthcoming.

Do you have any ideas or suggestions why this has happened?

I use Revit 2012 in my place of work and understand that it is a memory hungry application, could this be an explanation?

I have put a snapshot of my system info below, for your information.

I should be much obliged if you could provide me with some solutions to my problem.

Many thanks
