

Original File. I made a Wblock of the SE Isometric View.

This is the results of the wblock. Notice the Viewport Display has a minus sign and the Top View is displayed in lieu of the SE Isometric View. The right side of the screen is dead.

This is the result when I select the minus sign and restore the viewport. Notice the Viewport Displays have a plus sign and now the Top, Front and Right views are displayed while the SE Isometric view that I created the wblock from is nowhere to be found. I never even requested the additional Top, Front and Right views. The right side of the screen is still dead.

When I select the Plus sign in the Top viewport and select a single viewport the entire screen is now utilized but I have a minus sign.
